THE PRINCE'S PALACE

DINNER / CELEBRATIONS / ANNIVERSARIES / CONFERENCES

WELCOME TO THE NATIONAL MUSEUM

Welcome to the heart of Copenhagen, where one of the city's historic crown jewels will be the setting for your next event. We offer rental of the unique spaces in the historic and beautiful Prince's Palace at the National Museum.

At the palace, we have a wide range of rooms that can accommodate anything from small, intimate events to impressive dinners, parties and receptions for several hundred guests.

At the National Museum, our guests come first. That's why we plan events in close partnership with you and our regular partner, Madkastellet, an award-winning restaurant group with more than 15 years of experience.

Madkastellet also runs Restaurant Smör at the National Museum and has extensive experience with events in the palace.

NUMERIOUS OPTIONS

This is where you can gain an overview of the Museum's premises and the offers we have.

We can coordinate everything from interior set-up to sound and AV equipment if required, and are happy to provide creative and culinary inspiration depending on your needs and wishes.

If you wish, you can of course combine your meeting, conference or party with a guided tour of one of the Museum's exhibitions.

We are ready to help in any way we can.

THE HISTORY

The Prince's Palace at Frederiksholms Kanal in Copenhagen was built by Nicolai Eigtved in 1743-1744 as the residence of Crown Prince Frederik, later Frederik the Fifth.

The building was taken over by the state in 1849, and afterwards extended and used for various purposes, including museum collections, which gave birth to the National Museum in 1892.

The building, which is historically preserved, is one of Denmark's oldest rococo palaces in the French style, and Eigtved's original interior art can still be seen in several places in the main building.

For a time, the Knights' Hall was the studio of painters Jens Juel and N.A. Abildgaard, until it was taken over by the Supreme Court, whose buildings had been destroyed in the fire at Christiansborg in 1794.

Today, many of Denmark's historical treasures are housed within the beautiful buildings. This is why hosting an event with us is the perfect occasion for a tour, an inspiring presentation and a visit to see the collections.

AT YOUR SERVICE

Whether you're throwing a private party, celebrating with your company or catering a meeting or conference, our kitchen is eager to assist.

Madkastellet, which also runs Restaurant Smör on the first floor of the National Museum, is responsible for ensuring that you have a delicious, flavorful and beautifully prepared meal.

Our kitchen takes pride in curating high quality, healthy and inviting menus, and serving with a focus on hospitality. We are able to make the smaller, more intimate event into a cozy evening, and also make the larger, more adventurous event into something truly unforgettable.

We have a number of curated menu and catering suggestions to inspire you, and are happy to tailor the meal, table settings and other details to your specifications so that the event is exactly as you want it.

If you have special wishes or needs, we'll be happy to help you plan.

Let our extensive experience with parties of all sizes and formats give you confidence about holding your event with us.

If you need any assistance creating an exceptional event, our skilled and creative event professionals are ready with ideas, inspiration and solutions. The only limits are your imagination.

We never compromise on quality and find just as much pleasure in creating traditional, down-to-earth dishes as innovative gastronomic experiences.

Food should speak to the senses, and we throw all our creativity and energy into each dining and hosting experience.

RESTAURANT SMÖR

On the first floor in the atrium of the National Museum, you find the acclaimed Restaurant Smör.

The cosy restaurant premises can accommodate up to 76 diners, and can offer everything from standing receptions to Christmas parties.

During the day, the restaurant is a lunch restaurant, that you can visit without paying the museums entrance fee.

Restaurant Smör is accessible for events from 6 PM.

THE ATRIUM

The Museum's 450 m<sup>2</sup> entrance hall can set the scene for larger events outside of the Museum's opening hours. Here you can host parties or events under the beautiful light of the glass roof.

The Hall is also available for bookings all day on Mondays, when the museum is closed to the public, and can also be combined with the rental of other of our premises.

The Hall is approved for 400 standing people and can fit 280 seated guests at long tables.

THE BALLROOM

The Ballroom impresses with its breathtaking 225 m<sup>2</sup> and beautiful columns. This spectacular space therefore adds a little extra to your event.

The Ballroom has modern lighting and sound, and can accommodate 180 people in rows of chairs, 96 people seated at long tables or 220 people for a standing reception.

For dinner parties the Ballroom fits up to 64 people seated at round tables.

THE GLASS HALL

The Glass Hall is ideal for parties in an intimate setting. The hall's rear glass wall was designed by Aarhus artist Inge Dahl, and gives a stunning light to the atmosphere.

The 162 m<sup>2</sup> room can accommodate 144 people in rows of chairs, up to 130 people at long tables and 200 people for a standing reception. AV is included.

THE CINEMA

The modern 170 m<sup>2</sup> theater is beautifully furnished with lime green Arne Jacobsen seven-foot chairs and a hand-woven backdrop by artist Naja Salto. The Cinema functions as both a theater and an auditorium with sublime technology and a perfect view for everyone.

The Cinema offers 70 m<sup>2</sup> of stage space, which is ideal for large panels, dancing, performances, group work and more. The Cinema also has 125 fixed seats, but up to 176 people can be accommodated with extra rows of chairs.

THE CONFERENCE ROOMS

The National Museum's conference rooms overlook the Museum's bright, beautiful entrance hall. Within the 56 m<sup>2</sup>, you will find modern, built-in and easily accessible AV equipment to suit all your presentation needs.

The conference rooms can seat 40 people in rows of chairs, 34 people seated at long tables, 25 people seated in a U-formation, and 30 people seated in a square. The conference rooms can also be used as a group breakout space for events hosted in the Ballroom, the Hall, and the Cinema.

A still life composition on a dark, reflective table. In the upper right, a dark green cylindrical vase holds a bouquet of flowers, including white roses, blue hydrangeas, and large green leaves. In the lower left, a folded white napkin is neatly placed. To its right, a silver fork and knife are laid out. Further up and to the left, a small, ornate glass and a larger, rounded glass are visible. The scene is lit from the side, creating highlights and shadows on the table surface.
